

Course title: Introduction to Medical Communication, II year

Organization of the course: Classes start by an introduction meeting on Zoom.us application and followed by students activities in the Facebook social learning groups designed for each practical group separately. The course will be concluded by a Zoom.us online meeting with Q&A session and a summary of student assignments. Lectures are conducted as a set of e-learning modules available on the WUM e-learning platform.

Credit: the course credit is obtained basing on (A) student participation in practical classes: (1) participation in the scheduled online meetings, (2) completion of the assignments on the Facebook learning group and (3) active participation in the online discussions on the Facebook group & (B) completing the e-learning lectures: 4) completing all required modules and (5) providing an indicated assignment.